THE PREPARATIONS COMPLETE.

For the Big Reunion of 1887, which will be famous for years to come.—The Big Tent at Last in Position—Council does the Proper Thing for the Boys.

The great canvas structure to seat 20,000 people during the Big Reunion of the Society of the Army of West Virginia to be held here next week, commencing Tuesday, was completed yesterday, and the work of putting up the large stage and the seats begun by a force of 12 carpenters. This will be completed by to-morrow evening. Other tents and booths will be put up on the State Fair Grounds until the place will look like a magic city of white houses.

A number of the members of the First W. V. Cavalry met last evening and resolved to call a separate reunion of the Order, to meet in the Police Court room at the Public Building on Thursday, August 25, at 2 P. M. Among the members of the Cavalry, present, were the members of the First Cavalry, William McAdams, Fritz Byr, Lewis Fritz, Patrick Farley, John Oeh, G. O. Winzerled and Robert Liebert.

Pierpoint Post No. 9 Grand Army of the Republic, of which they have completed arrangements to attend the Big Reunion at Wheeling next week. The members of the Post will attend in a body on a special train and remain during the whole time. In fact most of Wheeling's citizens will make it a point to attend the exercises some time during the week. Wheeling will end a large delegation. Her people are proud over the selection of Gen. I. H. Duval, of that city, as Marshal of the day. He will prove the right man in the right place.

At last night's meeting of Council among the matters considered was an invitation from Capt. James R. Cowden, Corresponding Secretary of the Society of the Army of West Virginia, to address to the Mayor and Council asking them to take part in the grand parade of the city's trades and industrial interests that is to take place on Thursday of Reunion week, and the Mayor and Council accepted. Being sent to the Second Branch it was also accepted by that body.

Mr. G. B. Jones offered in the Second a resolution to the effect that the Mayor, the members of Council and the city officials generally take part in that parade, and that the Mayor and President of the Second Branch compose a committee to provide carriages for that occasion, and that the same be paid for out of the city's contingent fund. This was opposed by some members, led by Mr. Harrell. They objected to spending the city's money for "black rides." Their idea was to accept the invitation, and then let each of the invited parties pay for their own carriage. To the credit of the majority this idea of appropriating private resources as contemplated by Mr. Harrell was laughed down.

Mr. Jones offered another resolution providing for an appropriation of $100 out of the contingent fund to be expended by the Committee on Real Estate in the purchase of new signs and hunting and fishing flags in order to be on the city's end of the Public Building may be appropriately decorated during Reunion week.

Both resolutions were adopted by both branches. It is expected that the city authorities will expend at least $100 on the end in the way of decoration and $200 will make a brave show on the building. It is to be hoped that plenty of American flags and streamers will be purchased, instead of a large lot of gaudy flags of other nations as was done by the city during Centennial year. The flags purchased should be of good quality so that they can be used hereafter.

Sergeant James A. Macaulay, of Washington City, writes to the Intelligencer: "Your kind invitation to the Reunion of the Army of West Virginia came during my absence from the city on leave of absence, hence my delay in answering. I hope to be present on the occasion. I live again life's morning with my old comrades in arms. We were young a quarter of a century ago, you know. I trust your efforts may be rewarded by the ample success they deserve."

"Fraternal Order," "J. A. MACAULEY." Last evening's Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph says: A large meeting of ex-Union prisoners of war was held in the Board of Health rooms last night, when it was decided to attend the Reunion of the Army of West Virginia at Wheeling, August 20, in a body, attended by Hellick's drum corps. The members will meet at City Hall at half-past 6 A. M. on Friday, the 20th, to take the train for Wheeling. All Union prisoners are invited to go. Badges, and any information will be furnished by the President of the Association, Charles F. Sherrier, 80 Water street.

REUNION NOTES.

Pertinent Points on the Progress of the Preparations.

The big tent shows up to good advantage from both sides of the river.

Water Habi is home on the fishing trip at Stillwater, Ohio, and says that everything out there is coming to the reunion.

The big Reunion chorals is called to meet again to-night at Germania Hall. Prof. Arbenz is announced to conduct. A full attendance is specially urged.

The work of erecting the sports for the stand pipes for the gas arches was begun yesterday. The big arch on Market street north of Twelfth will probably be completed by Saturday.

Governor Wilson has declined an invitation to the Pennsylvania reunion in Pennsylvania county, Pa., on the ground that he will be in attendance on the reunion of the Army of West Virginia at Wheeling on last date.—Charleston Star.

The Charleston Star Tribune says: "The reunion of the Army of West Virginia at Wheeling, August 20, promises to be a grand affair. As Wheeling always comes to Charleston when we have grand affairs, we will of course all go to Wheeling to her grand affair. Bring on another hundred come that Charleston's population may be made comfortable."

Reunion at West Liberty.

On Thursday the surviving members of Co. D, 12th W. V. Vol. Inf., Col. Curtis's regiment, will hold a reunion at West Liberty. The company was enlisted in Ohio county and mustered August 25, 1862. The prospects for a big attendance are good. Large delegations will attend from Wheeling and West Alexander, and the company will be given the regimental gallant conduct on the field by Gen. Gibbons.

An Alleged Counterfeiter Shot.

A few days ago James Smith, of Big Sandy, Roane county, was before United States Commissioner Dr. Boe, at Charleston, charged with counterfeiting. He waived an examination until next Saturday.

It is supposed that there is a regular or "gaiting" road of counterfeiters in that neighborhood. The body was recovered at Martin's Ferry Sunday night. Sybil Schultze held an inquest over the body and returned a verdict of accidental drowning. The body was recovered at the Princess backed out for Belaire, and after the inquest the remains were turned over to George Leusser, an undertaker from Martin's Ferry.

THERE was a row at Bricefield's saloon, in Newwood, Sunday, it seems. It appears that in going in the house by a side door one of the customers jostled against the saloon-keeper's wife, which was resented by the proprietor, and a verbal encounter ensued which terminated in a brief but spirited fight, in which the jostler, a friend and the runceler, figured. The case will be tried before His Honor Mayor Mahan.

The announcement that it has been definitely decided to extend the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad to this city from its present temporary terminus at Bowersett, Ohio, will be received with pleasure by Wheeling people.
